1. How does Consignment work?

You hand over your book to us, we sell them for you and refund your debit card when the book is sold. No posters to put up, no waiting for potential buyers! Simply check your account online and drop by the store to get a pay out.

2. Is there a fee to set up a consignment contract?

No, it's absolutely free.

3. What books do you take?

We take all current edition textbooks required by University of Winnipeg faculties for the upcoming term(s). Based on the book list, and present inventory, we determine the quantity of textbooks we will take in as consignments.

4. How much do I get for my Books?

You get to set your own price, provided it is at least 30% lower than the current new retail price. You get 80% of the asking price; Petrified Sole keeps 20% of the asking price.

5. What happens to the Books or Money that I forget to pick up?

You must pick up your money or unsold books by the specified date on your contract. Once your contract expires, any unsold book or money becomes the property of the store. The books will be sold at a reduced rate or donated.

6. What condition do my books need to be in?

Books should be in reasonable condition, meaning that the cover is still attached and all pages intact. Highlighting, notes and markings on the pages are perfectly fine. Workbooks and study guides are generally not consigned unless they are free of all markings.

7. Why won't you consign my book?

Occasionally we are unable to consign your book, this happens for a variety of reasons. The most likely reasons are:

- Book has not been readopted for the upcoming term(s)
- The edition of the textbook has changed, or the book is now out of print.
- The course using the particular textbook is not being offered next term.
- The bookstore is overstocked on that particular title.

8. Can I consign books that I purchased USED?

Yes. So long as the book is in reasonable condition, and is a current edition, we will consign your book.
